Of course, yes, without any doubt university has paved the way in financial assistance to startup sustainable business. Especially for people in local community.

1. Supporting small business by providing financial assistance.

Under the patronage of the Dean of the College of Administrative Sciences, Professor Dr. Haider Ali Muhammad, the Department of Business Administration, under the supervision of the Head of the Department of Business Administration, Assistant Professor Dr. Amjad Hamid Majeed, and some fourth-year students visited some small shops and a hot drinks kiosk to provide support to them. This is considered a series of department activities.

2. Supporting people in need to establish their own business

Under the patronage of the Dean of the College of Administrative Sciences, Professor Dr. "Haider Ali Muhammad Al-Dulaimi" and under the direct supervision of the Head of the Department of Business Administration, Assistant Professor Dr. "Amjad Hamid Majeed" Street vendors have a share of the sustainable development goals

The activity of the Department of Business Administration continues to support street vendors with the necessary materials for the purpose of managing the activity of this work. This activity came as a continuation of the university's journey in achieving the goals of sustainable development. The first goal is to eliminate poverty.

3. Securing a small business that would ensure that there is a near steady flow of income is a priority to any individual. Therefore, supporting local small business projects in our local community has been in the forefront of our actions in achieving SDG1.
4. Under the patronage of the respected President of Al-Mustaqbal University, Professor Dr. Hassan Shaker Magdy, and under the direct supervision of Professor Dr. Haider Al-Dulaimi, Dean of the College of Administrative Sciences, a group of lecturers and students from the Business Administration Department carried out a special activity to support small projects, which is preparing equipment for selling travel tea. This came in implementation of the directives of the Head of the Business Administration Department to achieve the goals of sustainable development, specifically the first goal of eliminating poverty.
